

Facilities Master Plan Community Dialogues

LAFAYETTE
PARISH SCHOOL SYSTEM

Strength. Tradition. Excellence.

What is the point of this plan?

A facilities master plan is the result of a process that incorporates the expertise of architects and engineers into the reality of a community's demographics, then shapes that data to meet the needs of its educators and the vision of the community's members.

How do I participate?

One of the most critical pieces of this puzzle is our community. We need to know what the people want their schools to look like, where they want their schools to be, what programs they want for their children, and what they expect from our building. These are the questions we ask during the dialogues.

What are these meetings about?

Part of the process involves establishing the vision for the future of the system and our schools. To accomplish that, the input of the community is needed.

The meetings are broken down into five phases:

Visioning - to determine what our community wants for our schools, in terms of programs and facilities.

Data - to present information about the conditions of our buildings and the projected demographics of our system, and discuss them.

Campus Options - to present information about our options for each building, and discuss them.

District Options - to present information about our options for the district in general, and discuss them.

Master Plan Presentation - to present the proposed district-wide plan, and discuss it.
